family members, and between community members. We envision a future of less stress and greater ease as adults maintain a demanding career, provide for and nurture young children, and also help their retiring or aging parents live to their fullest. They “come home” to a place where everyone is connected to the ones they love, passionately engaged in meaningful activities, and feeling complete peace of mind that no matter what stage of life, the OASIS Community is one that residents want to proudly call home for years and generations to come.

We are very excited to present our vision for a sustainable, walkable, pedestrian oriented and age-friendly community in the heart of the Jericho Neighbourhood. We want to facilitate positive dynamics and interaction between

OASIS by element™ Vision

INTERGENERATIONAL AGING-AND-GROWING-IN-PLACE

- The intergenerational vision of this project won Element an international award over 950 retirement living projects assessed worldwide. (2015 Globals Award)
- Vision: Peace of mind; a diverse, inclusive intergenerational community.
 - Seniors, adult children and grandchildren live, work, and play within the same community.
 - Elders age in place, connected to younger members of family, friends and the local neighborhood. Examples: schools where seniors are intrinsically part of the education program; seniors and grandchildren plant cultivate and harvest food for the local community; multi-generational dance, yoga, ping pong, cooking classes.
 - From proactive wellness to nursing care.
 - Retirees move in healthy and active. As health changes, we provide personal support and nursing care: Independent Living, Assisted Living, and Complex Care. There is also opportunity for Respite Care and Adult Day Care.
 - Families are freed from worry and duty; family time is about bonding and building memories.
 - Hospitality services, amenities, activities programming – some specialized for elderly, many designed to engage all ages.
 - Condominiums and rentals.

Who is element™?

OUR MISSION, VALUES AND PHILOSOPHY

- Element is a community builder, and a service and care provider.
- We exist to provide better living for families, to support our seniors to age in place while creating opportunities for them to pass on wisdom, skills, and values to our future generations.
- We are committed for the long-term: we operate our communities after we build them.
- We offer choice, continuity and peace of mind to seniors and families.
- We are known for our Intergenerational Aging-and-Growing in Place model.
- We build true community, where all generations are interconnected, providing support and inspiration to each other. Elders age in place and families grow in place.
- Development is a mandatory part of the process of bringing new living arrangements that better serve society. And that is why we are here: to engage you in the process of challenging status quo.

pursue life.
